9:00-12:00	Visit to demonstration site to discuss of methods and challenges.	1) The aim of the visit to the demonstration site is for the team and partners to better understand the project, the methodology, and the team and team roles. 2) the project is guided philosophically by an approach founded on 'learning through doing'; we therefor need to practice this as part of our efforts, as well as in terms of the research itself - the field visit is for the team to get 'their hands dirty'. 3) Roughly, during this visit to the demonstration site: a) we spend 1 - 2 hours on site (depending on travel time from Memoria); b) we help accomplish something (e.g. do the weeding for a treatment; take measurements; help Sophanara as he does a round of data collection); c) we speak with the land-owner and some local farmers to discuss their experiences with Cassava and the problems that they face asking them what they would like to do with their lands. 9:00-12:00	Visit village(s) in Pailin (near Memoria) and meet with local villagers to discuss the problems, solutions, and pathways that they are aware of or prefer.	For this visit we will replicate as much of the methodology as possible for the group. The goal of the village visit is for participants to get a feel for the villages in the study area and to visit a couple farmers' home farms; to walk around the villages; to speak with people; to hear from the chief or village elder(s). In general, we will consider this visit a great success if the participants leave with a feeling for what the villagers' lives are like, what they hope for, and what problems are (for them) the most significant.
